

BLUE JAY CORNER

November Photo Contest Winners FFA Blood Drive

Rachel Vogler- 1st place
Rachel practices the principle of leading lines using a prop in the Rock Port Gymnasium.

Makenna Farmer- 2nd place
Makenna saw leading lines in the lockers in the junior high hallway.

Riley Vogler- 3rd place
Riley used an image of the high school cheerleaders during the Mound City Tournament.

The criteria for November's photo contest was "leading line." For an opportunity to vote in future contests, be sure to follow the mass media staff on Twitter @rbluejaysyrbk.

Rebekah Lucas gives blood at the annual FFA blood drive at Rock Port High. The FFA Chapter had one of their most successful years collecting 38 pints of blood. "I have been looking forward to helping collect blood. It made me feel so empowering knowing I could help save a life and I can't wait till next year," Rebekah said. Caption by Jentry Freemyer

1. , first grader, plays defense in the K-3 basketball clinic. 2. glues strips of paper to a worksheet in Mrs. Vette's second grade classroom. 3. Freshman Alivia Baucom boxes out an opponent in the consolation game of the Mound City Tournament. 4. Senior Ben Lucas practices the concert music to prepare for the upcoming concert. 5. investigates Mrs. Weber's sixth grade classroom. A murder scene was set up last week and the grade had to solve the mystery. 6. Beth Davis, sophomore basketball cheer co-captain, hypes up the crowd at the Osborn game.

Ms. Rebecca Smallfoot,
Student Teacher - Music Department
By Ashley Christian

Where are you from?
Auburn, Neb.
What do you like about Rock Port?
It is like a family here.
How many instruments can you play?
Almost every instrument.
Why did you choose education?
I just felt like I should be a teacher, and music is my happy place.
What is the best thing about teaching music?
When the students get invested in their music.

Rock Port students stay busy all semester...

by Darius Skillen

Photo by Darius Skillen